Director's Note —

At the heart of Shrek the Musical is the longing to discover one's self by embracing one's own character quirks and flaws, owning them for the powerful magic they bring to defining us as individuals. Within this journey of self-discovery is wrapped a timeless tale of love, friendship, and acceptance. No matter who you are, no matter what might adorn your "freak flag," I hope that you are able to connect with this show. These actors and crew members have poured their hearts into preparing this ambitious production, and I believe it shows in every note and choreographed step. This show would not have been possible without a dedicated group of parents, staff, and actors. For every person you seen on stage, one or more made it possible for them to be there, looking radiant...and perhaps a little gassy. I hope that when you leave this production, you're humming tunes, cracking jokes, and holding your head high, confident in all the things that make you...you.
