Fail Safe

March 16th at 7pm at the Little White School Museum

From Sidney Lumet's classic Cold War thriller, this edge-of-the-seat nail-biter features an all-male cast and follows the decision-makers in Washington as they try to solve a nuclear crisis with the Soviets. The President, his generals, and advisers are all players in this high-stakes drama where the very survival of mankind is on the line.

The Thin Man

April 21st at 7pm at the Little White School Museum

When people go missing, their loved ones turn to master sleuths and imbibers Nick and Nora Charles, the most famous alcoholic husband and wife detective team in the business! From the novel by Dashiell Hammett and the film starring William Powell and Myrna Loy, this comedy only has two questions: how do we find the missing Thin Man, and what happens when we run out of ice?

ABOUT THIS SHOW

This is the second spring One-Acts show that has been all original writing. But, it's the first to be written entirely by student participants, which is an important milestone for us. Borne out of the realization that most one-act scenes for actors this age are bad, we decided to write our own. As you watch, remember that the stars of this show are not just those who are on stage, saying the lines, but those sitting in the back of the theatre, or stage managing the show, who wrote those lines. The stars are also many of those same writers who, along with other participants, directed these scenes, some of them for the first time. This is an important part of what Limelight stands for; our goal is to teach and develop the skills of our participants, often through original works such as this one. Thank you for coming to see the show!
